FYI - we can e-mail the ship and they will put it out for their passengers? Should we mention the Iowa? Will the Iowa have someone there staffing the visitor booth?

If you have items from SP to send to the ship, they are willing.

Hi Chris,

It's a combination of organized tours and folks on their own. I have sent them the local information we usually do for all calls but if there's other information you have I'm happy to forward in along.

Kind regards,

Thanks

Do they all have tour's scheduled or will they be doing independent moves and or need anyone from our local CVB to help?

If they want local info - can you email local info to the ship today?

Thanks
Chris

Hi Chris,

LA is considered a turn port for the vessel, however they are part-way through a world cruise where guests sail segments. We have about 400 debark/embark and about 200 in-transit guests.

Kind regards,
